The Caldecott School's ethos and culture provides students with an environment that allows them to realise their academic, social and moral potential in a way that mainstream school is not able to do.

We are dedicated to providing a broad and balanced curriculum whilst ensuring that all pupils, staff and any visitors are kept safe.

In support of everyone that attends our school, we have a statement of Behaviour Principles which is reviewed and approved by the Caldecott School's Board of Governors annually.

Written Statement of Behaviour Principles

Every pupil understands they have the right to feel safe, valued and respected

Staff will do their best to ensure that every pupil can learn, free from the disruption of others

All pupils, staff and visitors are free from any form of discrimination

Staff and volunteers always set an excellent example to pupils

Rewards, sanctions and reasonable force are used consistently by staff, in line with the Caldecott School's Behaviour Policy

The Behaviour Policy is understood by pupils and staff

The Exclusions Policy explains that exclusions will only be used as a last resort, and outlines the processes involved in permanent and fixed-term exclusions

Pupils are helped to take responsibility for their actions

Families and Carers are involved in behaviour incidents to foster good relationships between the school and pupil's home life

The Governing Board emphasises that any violence or threatening behaviour will be immediately addressed, in an appropriate manner
